

That night, Malakai and Beriah knelt beside their beds and prayed. The gentle presence of their guardian angel was near.

“Thank You, God, for Your angels who watch over us,” they whispered.

God was with them, just as He promised.