

Sep by step, they carefully followed the uncertain path. As they did, peace filled their hearts — because they knew God was with them.

He would help them, guide them, and stay by their side.